The 2013–2014 academic year at the Getty Research Institute and Getty Villa will be devoted to exploring the art-historical impact of maritime transport. Far from being barriers, seas and oceans are vital links connecting cultures. The goal of this research theme is to explore how bodies of water have served, and continue to facilitate, a rich and complex interchange in the visual arts.

The Getty Research Institute and the Getty Villa invite proposals focusing on artistic exchange and the transmission of knowledge across bodies of water from ancient times to the present day. Scholars actively engaged in studying the role of artists, patrons, priests, merchants, and explorers in oceanic exchange are encouraged to apply, and projects focusing on the Pacific are particularly welcome.

Residential grants and fellowships are available for scholars at all stages in their careers:
- Getty scholar grants for established scholars, artists, or writers who have attained distinction in their fields
- Getty pre- and postdoctoral fellowships
- GRI-NEH postdoctoral fellowships, made possible through a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities
- VolkswagenStiftung postdoctoral fellowships, funded by the Volkswagen Foundation

How to Apply:
Detailed instructions, eligibility requirements, application forms, and a complete theme statement are available online at: www.getty.edu/foundation/apply

Deadline: 1 November 2012