ORDONNANCE
FOR THE FIVE KINDS
of COLUMNS
AFTER THE METHOD
of THE ANCIENTS

Claude Perrault

INTRODUCTION BY ALBERTO PÉREZ-GÓMEZ
TRANSLATION BY INDIRA KAGIS MCEWEN
CONTENTS

Acknowledgments xi
Alberto Pérez-Gómez Introduction i

Claude Perrault
ORDONNANCE
FOR THE FIVE KINDS
of COLUMNS
AFTER THE METHOD
of THE ANCIENTS

Preface 47

PART ONE
(Table of Chapters)

I  Ordonnance and the Architectural Orders 65
II  The Dimensions Regulating the Proportions of the Orders 67
III The General Proportions of the Three Main Parts of Entire Columns 70
IV  The Height of Entablatures 71
V  The Length of Columns 74
VI  The Height of Entire Pedestals 77
VII  The Proportions of the Parts of Pedestals 80
VIII  The Diminution and Enlargement of Columns 82
IX  The Projection of the Base of Columns 85
X  The Projection of the Base and Cornice of Pedestals 86
XI  The Projection of the Cornice of Entablatures  89
XII The Proportions of Capitals  91
XIII The Proportions of the Astragal and the Lip of the Column Shaft  92

PART TWO
(Table of Chapters)

I  The Tuscan Order  97
II  The Doric Order  105
III  The Ionic Order  115
IV  The Corinthian Order  129
V  The Composite Order  142
VI  Pilasters  151
VII Abuses in the Alteration of Proportions  153
VIII Some Other Abuses Introduced into Modern Architecture  165

Bibliography  185
Index  190