Greetings from the Getty Vocabulary Program. In this quarter, processing of contributions included the following: In AAT, contributions processed included those from CHIN/RCIP, including French terms; contributions from GCI, from the German translation project, from Getty Scholars, from Getty Museum, and from University of Toronto. In ULAN we processed contributions from the RKD, from the JPC (Johnson Publishing Company) acquisition, Getty Museum, BWR architects, and from the Smithsonian. For TGN, we added a small number of records from GCI, BWR, and others. In CONA, we processed BWR built works (from BWR members Avery, ARTstor, GRI, AIIS, Bryn Mawr, Princeton, Cornell, Harvard, Blair Bloom, HCAP, LoC CAS, SAHARA, UCSD, WMF, UTLong, ArtOnFile). For IA, we added a small number of records, from the BWR contribution, and others. We continue to consult with potential contributors whose contributions would be within scope and meet the priorities of our mission, particularly to make the Vocabularies more diverse and inclusive. This quarter, discussions regarding new contributions included Korean colleagues, projects on cuneiform seals, and regarding Turkish artists, among others. See our list of contributors.

Getty Vocabularies remain the most heavily-used resources on the Getty Research Institute online pages. In the map below, you can see the distribution of our users globally for this quarter. This map represents users of our online search interface: around 620,000 page views from around 31,000 unique users for this quarter. Not counted here are the users who access the Vocabularies via LOD and other data formats, or who access the Vocabularies from vendors’ systems or other Web sites that post the Getty Vocabularies.
In other news: We mourned the loss in August of our longtime colleague, leader, and dear friend, Murtha Baca. Murtha was a founding member of the Getty Vocabulary Program, esteemed educator, and globally respected in the field of information science, particularly for her expertise in the area of metadata and digital information systems. Murtha’s contributions to the success of our work, our international collegial relationships, the longevity of the Vocabularies, and the acceptance of the Vocabularies by the broad user community are inestimable.

At GVP this quarter, we conducted several presentations, notably on the topic of diversity, including Patricia at the meeting of “Des nouveaux usages des collections dans les musées Montreal-Paris.” Patricia and Hans Brandhorst began a conversation regarding the potential for Iconclass and Getty Iconography Authority co-referencing. Meetings attended by Patricia included World Historical Gazetteer meeting and the VIAF annual meeting. Jon continued work as an officer in CIDOC, planning and as an active participant at the CIDOC meeting in Mexico City. Robin attended the annual conference for the Visual Resources Association (VRA) in San Antonio, including important discussions on DEAI. Antonio completed a mapping of AAT, ULAN, and TGN to MARC authorities, which will aid in producing MARC format releases for our contributions to VIAF and Ex Libris (for context, see the regular Vocabulary releases). He met with guests from NRICH at Getty. A new Graduate Intern began working in the Vocabulary Program in August, Emily Benoff. She has so far begun working in AAT, ULAN, and is preparing for innovative work on the CDWA site. We are just beginning to plan for the ITWG 2024 meeting, to be held at the Getty Center.

For developers: Note that the Getty Vocabulary LOD site (vocab.getty.edu) offers 2 modeling options for consumers of Getty Vocabularies URIs: the original Vocab LOD SKOS/Schema.org model and the new Linked.Art modeled Vocabularies data for JSON and JSON-LD. See this page for details: http://vocab.getty.edu/ChangestoVocabLOD

For end users: OpenRefine reconciliation service: Would you like to clean messy data and reconcile your terminology to the Getty Vocabularies’ records? Consider the helpful OpenRefine Reconciliation Service, which has received improvements some months ago: 1) The displays for matched results, particularly for TGN, have been improved to allow you to more easily disambiguate among results. 2) A new “data extend feature” was added, that allows users to grab additional fielded information from Vocabulary records, based on the reconciled term/record. For example, if you’re reconciling ULAN names, you could also grab the variant terms in a separate field, biographies, roles, and nationality/cultures. See https://www.getty.edu/research/tools/vocabularies/obtain/openrefine.html.

SPARQL: Would you like to access the rich data of the Vocabularies via over 90 interesting sample queries? Please visit the SPARQL end point here: http://vocab.getty.edu/doc/queries/.

Contributing: What terminology and associated information may be contributed to the Getty Vocabularies? See scope of AAT, scope of ULAN, scope of TGN, scope of CONA, scope of IA. If you represent an institution interested in making contributions, please learn about the Letter of Agreement and the process for proposing contributions here: https://www.getty.edu/research/tools/vocabularies/contribute.html. If you represent a scholarly project or are an expert who is collecting vocabulary data that you would like to share with the larger community, please contact us about a possible contribution at vocab@getty.edu. Contributions are considered based on our capacity, mission, and priorities.

January-March 2023

Greetings from the Getty Vocabulary Program. In this quarter, processing of contributions included the following: In AAT, we continued processing of the CHIN contribution including Chinese terms; added ATTCAT contribution for Chinese architecture terms; added contributions from AATA for GCI; made edits for the Dutch translation; added terms for the Dutch textile project; added Arabic contribution from the AIUlja project. In ULAN we added contributions from Getty Conservation Institute (GCI); continued processing of the RKD artist contribution; checked contributions for LGBTO artists in ULAN; added Indian artists from the O-Foundation; worked on processing of GRI Special Collections contributions for the Szemann collection; worked extensively with correcting names and other data in ULAN for East Asian artists; processed artists from the BWR (Built Works Registry) contribution to CONA. For TGN, we added records from NGA for the nation of Canada; completed the swap-out of place names in TGN that are derogatory and considered “avoid use” terms; processed place names from the BWR contribution to CONA. In CONA, we did extensive processing of the BWR contribution (from BWR members Avery, ARTstor, GRI, AIIS, Bryn Mawr, Princeton, Cornell, Harvard, Blair Bloom, HCAP, LoC CAS, SAHARA, UCSD, WMF, UTLong, ArtOnFile), notably for rock-cut structures, temples, university and other public buildings. For IA, terms were added from the BWR contribution to CONA, and others.

In other news: We conducted several presentations, meetings, and papers on topics of diversity, including at the OCLC Cataloging Community Meeting. Making the Vocabularies more multilingual, multicultural, diverse, unbiased, and inclusive remains one of our primary goals. On other topics, presentations included training #2 for cataloging using CDWA and Getty Vocabularies for the Louvre Abu Dhabi, focused on prints, manuscripts, photographs, and drawings. We presented at the subject analysis committee (SAC) of ALA. We investigated working with contributors to update tribal names and other multilingual terminology. One of us (Jon) continued work as an officer in CIDOC and as a member of ISKO. We drafted a mapping of AAT, ULAN and TGN to MARC authorities, with the hope to eventually provide a conversion from one of the regular Vocabulary releases to MARC format, to serve implementers and other users who require MARC. In the arena of metadata, with colleagues at GRI, we are undertaking a study to improve metadata communication; we hope to demonstrate that the multilingual terms and rich data of the Getty Vocabularies can function as the glue joining varied and separate resources, regardless of language or domain.

October-December 2022: Congratulations! Recent anniversaries with the Vocabulary Program: Jon Ward, 20 years, and Robin Johnson, 25 years. A former Getty graduate intern recently published an article: Camila Aparecida da Silva, "The Ongoing Translation of the Getty Art & Architecture Thesaurus® into Portuguese: An Art Information Access and Retrieval Tool for Cultural Institutions in Portuguese-Speaking Countries." Getty Research Journal Vol 16 2022, pp. 209–225. We continued with our mission and goals to make the Vocabularies more multilingual, multicultural, diverse, and inclusive. We conducted several presentations, meetings, and papers on these topics., including at a NKOS virtual conference on Equity and Inclusion and Getty Vocabularies more multilingual, multicultural, diverse, and inclusive. we began considering strategies to deliver MARC or a transform from an existing release into MARC, to allow regular Vocabulary contributions to VIAF and Ex Libris’ Alma Refine. We began designing a survey of Vocabulary users to inform us how Getty Vocabularies are used, and how the content, accessibility, and usability could be improved. We continued work on a metadata triangulation project with the Getty Provenance Registry, having the goal to use the Getty Vocabularies at our SPARQL end point to conduct retrieval based on the Vocabularies’ rich data, demonstrating how we could advance serious research and discovery in Art History.

Periodic lists of terms newly added to the Getty Vocabularies http://www.getty.edu/research/tools/vocabularies/index.html
For the period January-June 2021

From the Getty Vocabulary Program, we send greetings and are hopeful that you are well. Here in Los Angeles, we are beginning to come back to the Getty offices slowly, after many months working from home.

After our work-from-home period, we happily find ourselves at a significant milestone: We have essentially cleared out hundreds of thousands of backlogged contributions to the Vocabularies! With consultates at Ontotext and our colleagues at Getty Digital for technical support, the Vocabulary Program editors focused on pre-processing data in Excel and in Open Refine (https://www.getty.edu/research/tools/vocabularies/openrefine.html). Details about new data loads to each Vocabulary appear below.

While we have had a moratorium on new contributions while working on the backlog, we may now begin to accept proposals for new contributions. Learn about the Letter of Agreement, the scope of each Vocabulary, and procedures for proposing contributions here: https://www.getty.edu/research/tools/vocabularies/contribute.html

A primary goal is to make the Getty Vocabularies ever more multicultural, multilingual, and inclusive. We have undertaken a study to identify content lacunae in the Vocabularies, which we will target according to our strategic plan in the coming months.

Our user statistics have remained consistently high during this period, making the Getty Vocabularies (https://www.getty.edu/research/tools/vocabularies/index.html) the most used resources on the GRI site.
