HMO Plans
HMO plans provide all medical care for enrollees for a predetermined price. You pay only a small copayment for certain services, such as visits to the doctor. After the copayment, most care (including care from specialists) is paid at 100%. To receive benefits from the plan, you must use the HMO’s network of doctors and hospitals, and your care must be directed by your primary care physician (PCP). If you receive care outside of the HMO network, you are responsible for paying for that care. There is no lifetime maximum amount of covered medical benefits you may receive while covered by the HMO.

For more information on the HMO plans, call PacifiCare at 800.624.8822.

DENTAL PLAN
Once you enroll in one of the Getty’s medical plans, you and your covered dependents are automatically enrolled in the Dental Plan. The Dental Plan, which is offered through MetLife, allows you to receive services from any licensed dentist. The amount of benefits you receive depends on the type of dental service. If you use a dentist in MetLife’s Preferred Dentist Program, you can reduce your out-of-pocket expenses.

How the Plan Works
You may receive dental services from any dentist practicing within the scope of his or her license.

After you meet the annual deductible (if applicable), the plan begins paying a percentage of reasonable and customary costs. Each covered person may receive a specified maximum amount of dental benefits each calendar year. See Maximum Benefits on page 14 for more information.

Deductible
The dental deductible is separate from the medical deductible. The annual dental deductible is $50 per person or $150 per family and applies to all services except Diagnostic & Preventative Benefits. See “Summary of Dental Benefits” on page 15 for more information.
Preferred Dentist Program
You have the option of using a provider in the MetLife Preferred Dentist Program (PDP). By using a provider in the PDP network, you lower your out-of-pocket expenses because in-network providers are contracted with MetLife to use negotiated fees based on reasonable and customary charges.

Visit www.metlife.com/mybenefits or call MetLife at 800.942.0854 for a list of participating dentists.

Reasonable and Customary Charges
How much the plan pays and how much you pay are determined by reasonable and customary charges. The reasonable and customary charge is determined by MetLife and is the lowest of:
- The usual charge by the dentist for the same or similar services or supplies
- The usual charge of most other dentists or other providers in the same or similar geographic area for the same or similar services or supplies, or
- The actual charge for the services or supplies.

Maximum Benefits
During a calendar year, a covered individual may receive a maximum of $1,250 in preventative, routine and major services. An individual may receive a lifetime maximum of $1,500 for orthodontic treatment. There is also a lifetime maximum of $1,000 for temporomandibular joint (TMJ) disorders.

Alternate Treatments
There may be more than one way to treat a dental problem. If, in MetLife’s view, an adequate method or material that costs less could have been used, benefits will be based on that method or material. This means that the rest of the cost will not be a covered dental expense. For example, removable dentures may serve as well as fixed bridgework, but fixed bridgework is installed. Benefits will be based on the cost of a removable denture unless adequate results can be achieved only with fixed bridgework.

Pre-Determination of Benefits
Before you have dental work performed, it is important to know what is covered under the plan and how much the plan will pay. If you’re having any service done that will cost more than $300, you should give a claim form to your dentist. Have your dentist indicate the type of dental work to be done and the estimated cost. Ask your dentist to then send the form to MetLife. In turn, MetLife will notify you as to how much the plan will pay and how much you must pay. If you do not use this method, MetLife’s decision on what the plan will pay is final.
This method should not be used for:

- Routine oral exams
- Emergency dental care
- X-rays, cleanings and sealings, and fluoride treatments, or
- Services that will cost less than $300.

Summary of Dental Benefits

After you meet the annual deductible of $50 per person or $150 per family, the plan pays the percentages shown below.

To be covered under the plan, dental services must be performed or prescribed by a licensed dentist in accordance with established standards of dentistry. Dental services performed or prescribed by a doctor will be treated in the same way as if performed or prescribed by a dentist.

- Cleaning and scaling of teeth (oral prophylaxis) twice each calendar year
- Topical fluoride treatment for eligible dependent children up to age 19.

  - the existing denture cannot be made permanent, and
  - the permanent denture is installed within 12 months after the existing denture was installed.

Extension of Benefits

Normally, no dental benefits are paid after your dental coverage ends. However, the plan will pay for the following services after your coverage ends.

• Prosthetic device, provided the dentist prepared the abutment teeth and made impressions while you still had dental coverage and the device is installed within 31 days after your coverage ends,
• Crown, provided the dentist prepared the tooth for the crown while you still had dental coverage and the crown is installed within 31 days from when your coverage ends, and
• Root canal therapy, provided the dentist opened the tooth while you still had dental coverage and the treatment is finished within 31 days of when your coverage ends.

If You Have Other Dental Coverage
The Dental Plan has a provision designed to make sure that if you are covered by another dental plan, you are not reimbursed for more than 100% of your out-of-pocket expenses. This provision is called Coordination of Benefits.

Under this approach, the plan that pays first is called “primary.” The plan that pays second is called “secondary.” If you are covered under the Dental Plan as an employee, the Getty’s dental plan is primary. If you also have coverage through another plan, that plan is secondary.

Let’s suppose that your spouse is covered as a dependent under the Dental Plan and as an active employee under his or her employer’s own dental plan. In this case, the Getty’s dental plan is secondary. So, if your spouse files a claim under the other plan, which pays 90%, your spouse can file a claim for the remaining 10% from the Getty’s dental plan as a dependent. In no case will the reimbursed amount exceed 100% of the original expense.

When you file a dental claim, you must state whether you have any other coverage so that the plans can coordinate their benefits. You should always send your claim to the primary plan first. On the claim form, indicate the other plan you are covered under and the name of the employer providing that plan. After you receive an Explanation of Benefits (EOB) from the primary plan, you should send a copy of it with a claim form and itemized bill to the secondary plan for consideration.

Here’s how it is determined which plan is primary:

• Any plan without a Coordination of Benefits Provision is primary.
• If the Getty employee is the patient, the Getty’s dental plan is primary.
• If your spouse has a claim and is covered by both the Getty’s dental plan and his or her employer’s plan, your spouse’s employer’s plan is primary.
• If the claim is for a dependent child and the child is covered under both parents’ plans, the payment sequence is determined by the parents’ birthdays. The plan of the parent whose month of birth comes first in the year is primary. The other parent’s plan is secondary.
• If the parents are separated or divorced but not remarried, the plan of the parent with custody of the child is primary, unless the court has decreed that financial responsibility for medical and dental care expenses belongs with the other parent. If so, that parent’s plan is primary. If the court has granted joint custody to the parents, the plan of the parent whose month of birth falls earlier in the year is primary.

- If the parent with custody has remarried and a stepparent’s plan also covers the child, the plan of the parent with custody will pay first. The plan of the stepparent will pay next. The plan of the parent without custody will pay last.
- If you or your eligible dependents are covered by the Getty’s dental plan and by another group health plan under its COBRA continuation of benefits provisions, the Getty’s dental plan is primary.
- Dental expenses are paid first under the Getty’s dental plan before any payment by the Getty medical plans (such as for injury of the teeth in an accident), if appropriate.
- A plan covering a person as an active employee, or as a dependent, pays benefits before a plan covering the person as a laid-off or retired employee or dependent.
- If none of the rules above will determine the order of payment, the Plan that has covered the person the longest will be considered primary.

VISION PLAN

Once you enroll in one of the Getty’s medical plans, you and your covered dependents are automatically enrolled in the Vision Plan. Vision benefits for you and your dependents are provided through Vision Service Plan (VSP). This plan allows you to receive services through a VSP provider or (at a higher cost to you) a non-VSP provider. The Vision Plan is designed to cover visual needs rather than cosmetic eye care.

Receiving Benefits: Two Choices

You may choose to receive services from a VSP provider or a non-VSP provider. If you choose a VSP provider, the Plan will pay 100% of covered expenses after you pay the $10 deductible for each eye examination and/or vision supplies. Not all services or products are covered at 100%. Check with your provider.

If you choose a non-VSP provider, services and supplies will be covered according to the schedule shown on page 22 after you pay the $10 deductible.

What VSP Providers Cover

If you use a VSP provider, the following expenses will be paid in full after you pay the $10 deductible:

- One vision exam every 12 months
- New lenses, if necessary, once every 12 months
